Public entities must ensure that people with disabilities are not excluded from programs, activities, and services because of inaccessible facilities. Each facility is not necessarily required to be accessible. A public entity's services, programs, or activities, when "viewed in their entirety," must be accessible. This standard is known as "program accessibility" and is a key requirement under Title II. Structural changes are not required where there are other feasible solutions such as moving a class to an accessible location when a student with a disability needs to be in an accessible location or having a librarian retrieve books from an upper story. However, structural changes lead to increased integration and should be considered where feasible.

Programs, Activities and Services	Nonstructural Solutions	Structural Solutions
List programs, activities and services that are in inaccessible facilities. For each indicate nonstructural and structural solutions. Structural solutions should then be included in the transition plan. Nonstructural solutions can be included in the action plan.
